What was the first thought that went through your head when you realized you had made Team Canada?

It was a big shock since I placed third at nationals, I didn't expect it at all. My first thought was how great of an opportunity this was going to be, especially to put me out there for job opportunities. I thought about how good this was going to be for my career.

What are you most excited to experience in Lyon, France?

I'm most excited to meet other 3D artists from around the world, and get to see France.

What do you love about your trade/technology?

I love that my 3D game art gives me so much creative freedom. Anything that you can think of you can probably create with enough work and I think that's super cool.

What has been the best part of your Skills journey so far?

The best part of my Skills journey so far has been nationals. It was so great to connect with my team - we sort of became a little community. Everyone was in it together and I loved being a part of such an amazing group of people.

Do you have any words of encouragement to future Skills competitors?

My advice would be just have fun with it, and if something goes wrong on the first day, don't drag that with you for the rest of the competition. In the end, it will be an amazing experience either way, but a positive attitude is really important to do your best.
