What was the first thing that went through your mind when you realized your competitor made Team Canada?

“Wow, that is amazing and well earned by our competitor Noah!”

What made you want to train competitors for Skills Competitions?

I enjoyed the idea of giving young people the chance to excel in the trade early on.

What do you think sets your competitor apart from the others in their skill area?

Noah is patient and thoughtful in his decisions, consistently producing quality work.

What are you most excited to experience in Lyon, France?

It will be exciting to watch competitors from all over the world use their unique skill sets in an attempt to win the competition.
